Stanley Holloway's monologue about the lion and Albert was immensely popular when I was a child in the 50s. It was made famous by the masterly comic monologue by Marriott Edgar. The lion and Albert was held in the zoo one year, with a stick with an orse s eadandle, gave a lion a poke in the ear. Marriott Edgar s comic monologue about the lion and Albert was hugely popular when I was a child in the 50s. It was made famous by the masterly comic monologue by Marriott Edgar. The lion and Albert was held in 1937.